Volunteers Needed! Help Decide Where the Donations Go

San Juan United Way needs your help. Undesignated contributions from our 2012 campaign must be allocated to our Partner Agencies in a fair, unbiased and community-minded manner. Your involvement and input as an Allocations Volunteer is a critical part of this procedure. I hope you decide to become a part of this vital process team.

When you volunteer, you must attend one orientation/training session. These sessions will be held at San Juan United Way offices, 903 W Apache Street in Farmington, New Mexico. In the event you cannot attend either date listed, but wish to serve on an Allocation Panel, please call Linda Mickey at (505) 326-1195.

As a volunteer, you have the opportunity to visit the Partner Agencies that have requested funding. The scheduled training dates and site visits are listed below:

Orientation/Training Sessions (8:30 am-10:30 am)

Tuesday, February 12th
Thursday, February 21st

Site Visits (8am-Noon approx)

Wednesday, March 6th

All Panels/Final Deliberations (8:00 am – 12:00 pm)

Wednesday, March 13th

A Volunteer registration form is attached, please return the completed form to San Juan United Way as soon as possible. If you are unable to make the scheduled trainings, please call Linda at 326-1195.

Allocations Volunteer Process

- Fill out a 2013 Allocations Volunteer Registration Form and return it to Linda Mickey at San Juan United Way, 903 W. Apache St., Farmington, New Mexico or via email to linda.mickey@sjunitedway.org
- Attend an Orientation/Training session on February 12th or February 21st and receive your panel assignment
- Tour your assigned Agencies with your team on Wednesday, March 6th
- Attend the Final Deliberations Meeting on March 13th to help determine the funding for the agencies and programs you have reviewed (all panels will be present for this meeting)

Once your registration has been received by San Juan United Way, you will automatically be accepted as an Allocations Volunteer for 2013. Your next step will be to attend the Orientation/Training session on your chosen date. If you have any questions, please call Linda Mickey at (505) 326-1195.

Thank you for being part of the Allocations Team.
